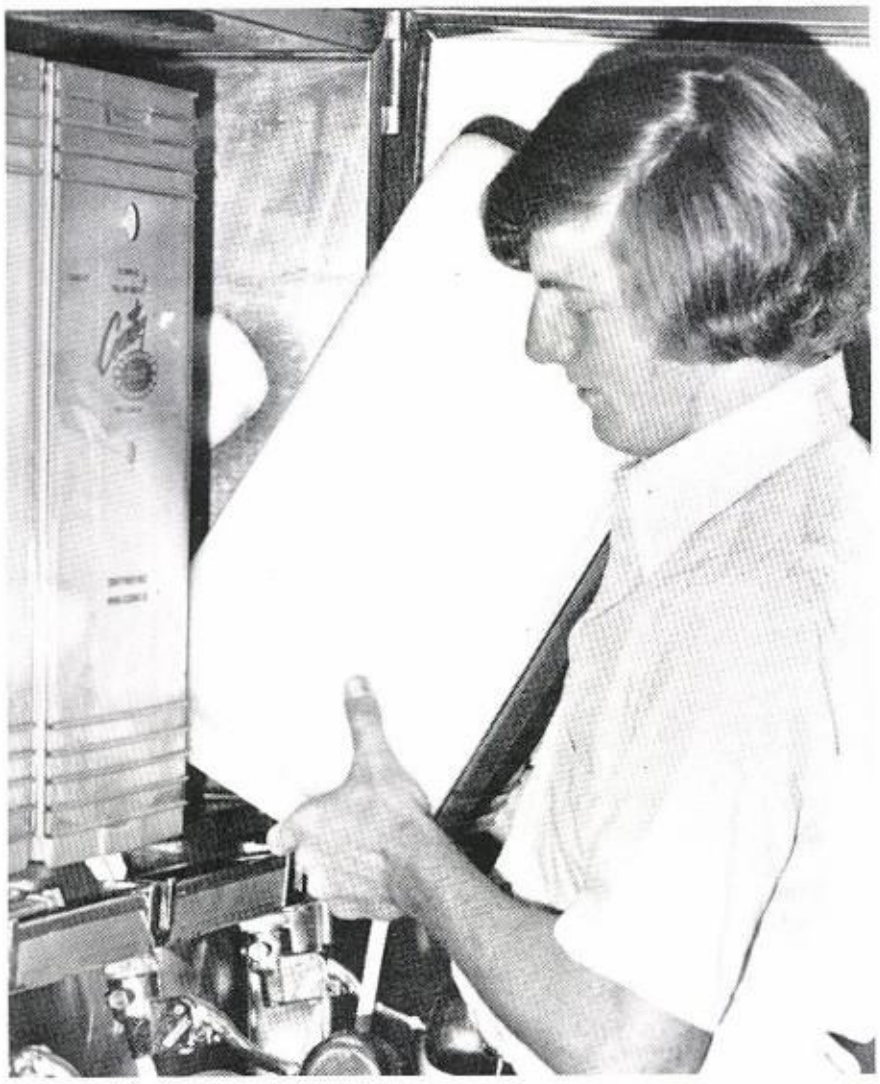
Our Founder Knew How to Get Personal

By signing the Deed of Trust in 1909, Milton and Catherine Hershey provided the opportunity for young people to obtain an education and a place to live. Now nearly seven decades later, the school has grown from its humble beginnings into an institution of prominence.

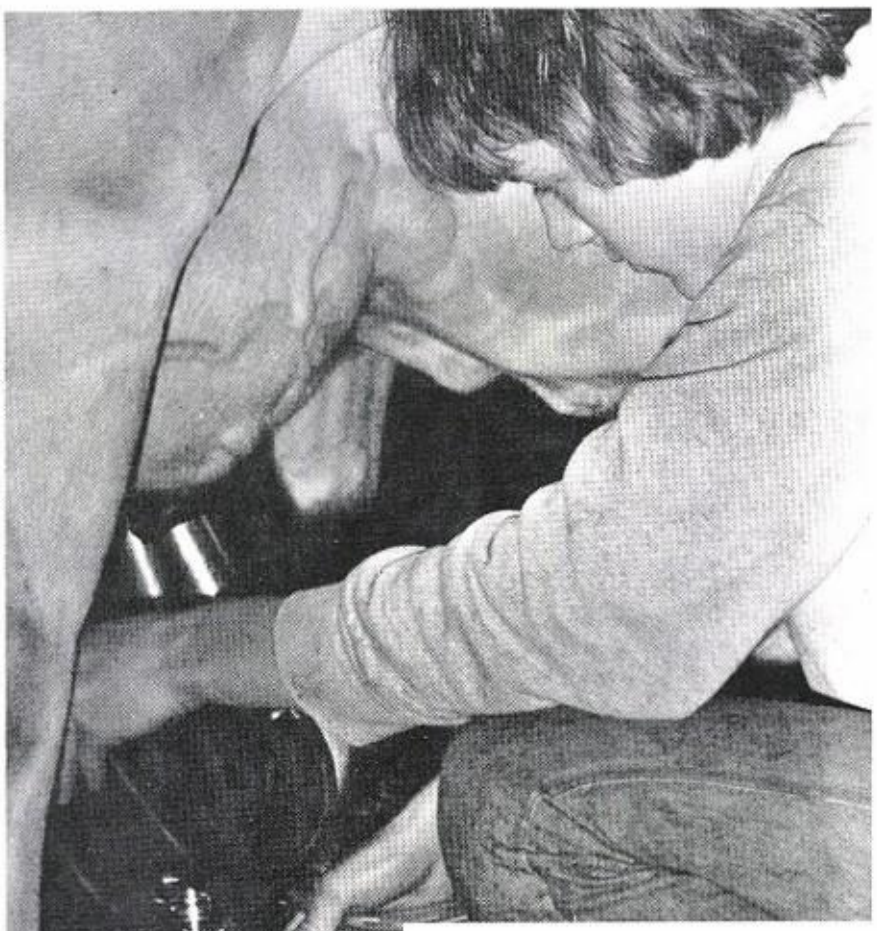
The school's program is provided for by money from the trust fund established by our founders. Without perseverance, Mr. Hershey might have been defeated by failures he met before achieving success in his candymaking endeavors. Chocolate's popularity allowed the Hersheys to fulfill their dreams for children whose lives had been touched by tragedy.

UP CLOSE AND PERSONAL



Bill Norton works in the kitchen.

Tony Clerico diligently studies and dreams of graduation.

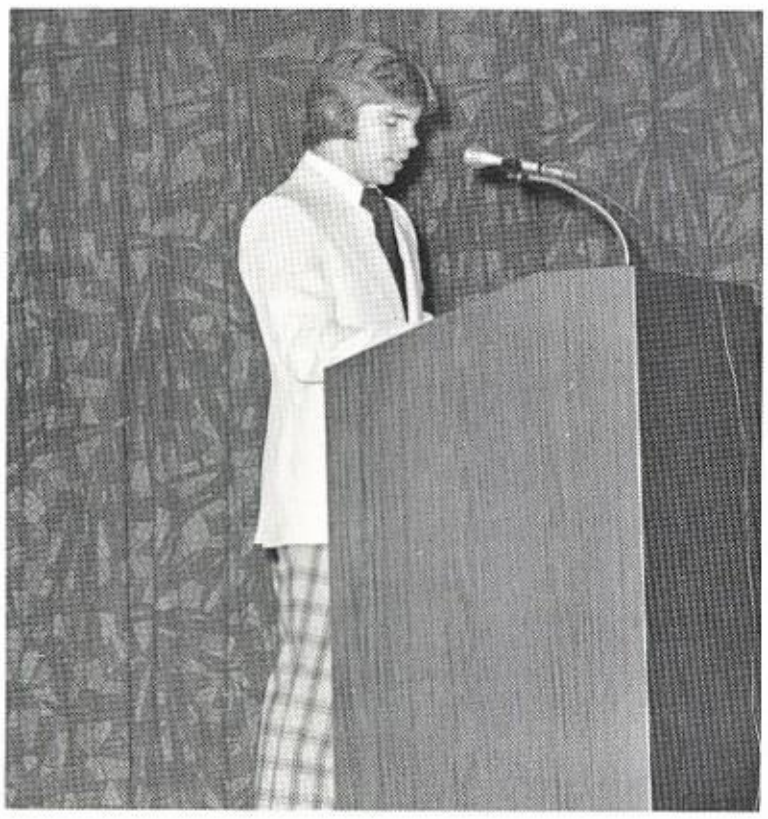


Barn chores are still an important part of the student home program.

Scott Fasnacht does a house chore.

Milton Hershey School students have been provided with student homes in which to reside. These homes, each equipped with the facilities to accommodate as many as sixteen students, are spread out over the School's campus. Students maintain their student homes under the responsibility of a general chore program. Many students of the Senior Division also have the responsibility of caring for a dairy barn shared by two student homes.

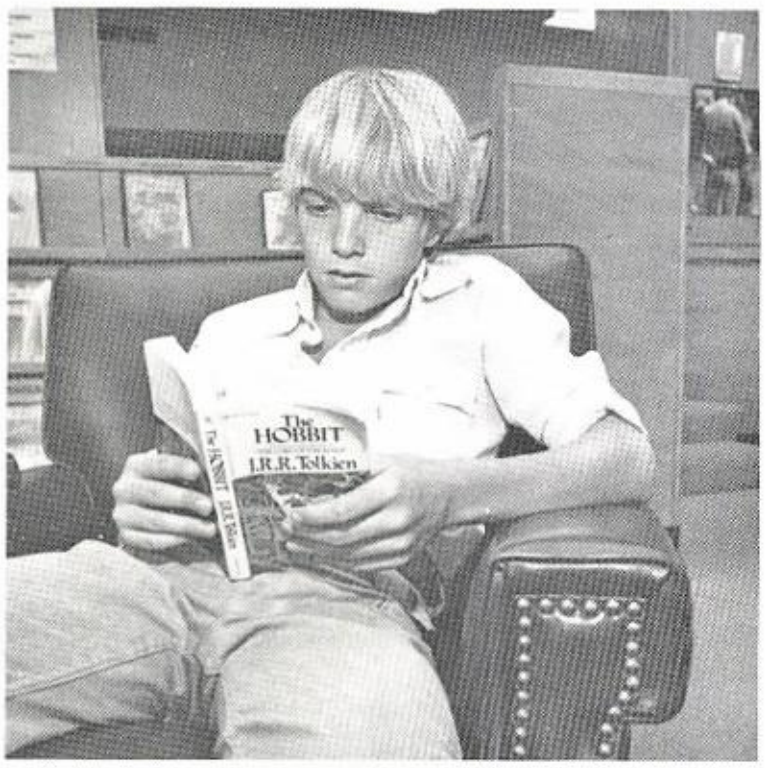
A Personal Tour
Our Senior Hall Classes



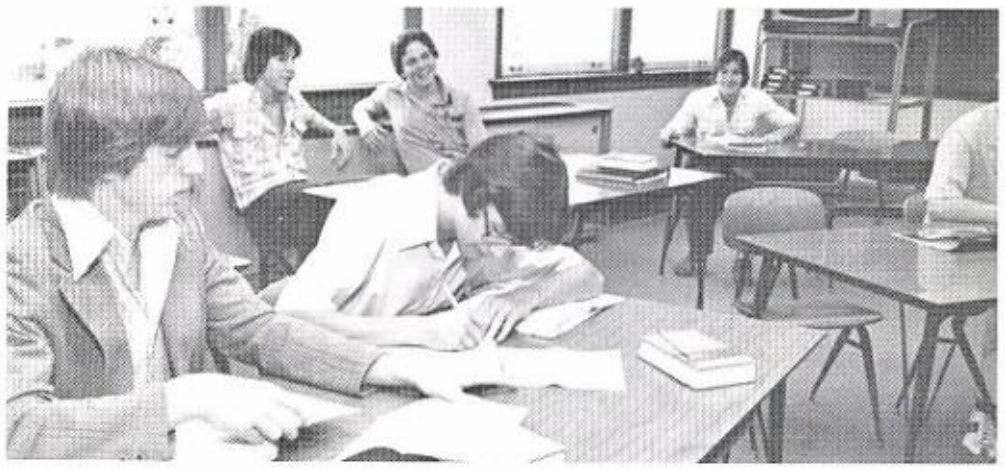
Pat Lister leads an assembly at Founders Hall.

The usual avidly eaten lunch.

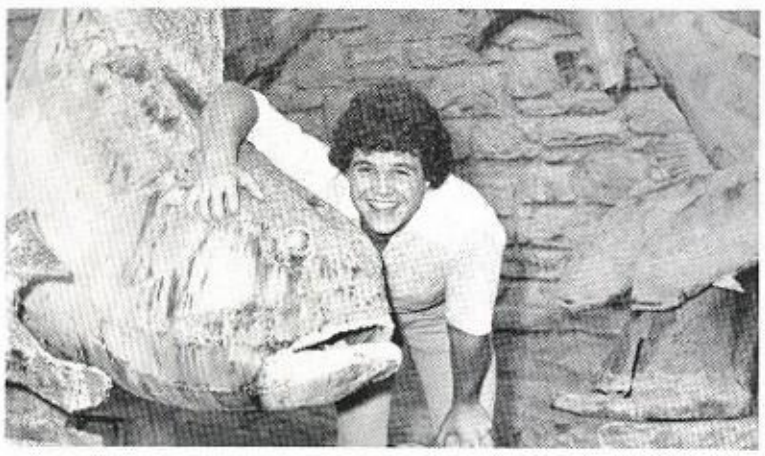
The crowd around the library desk seeks information.



Dave Walker reads a favorite book in the library.

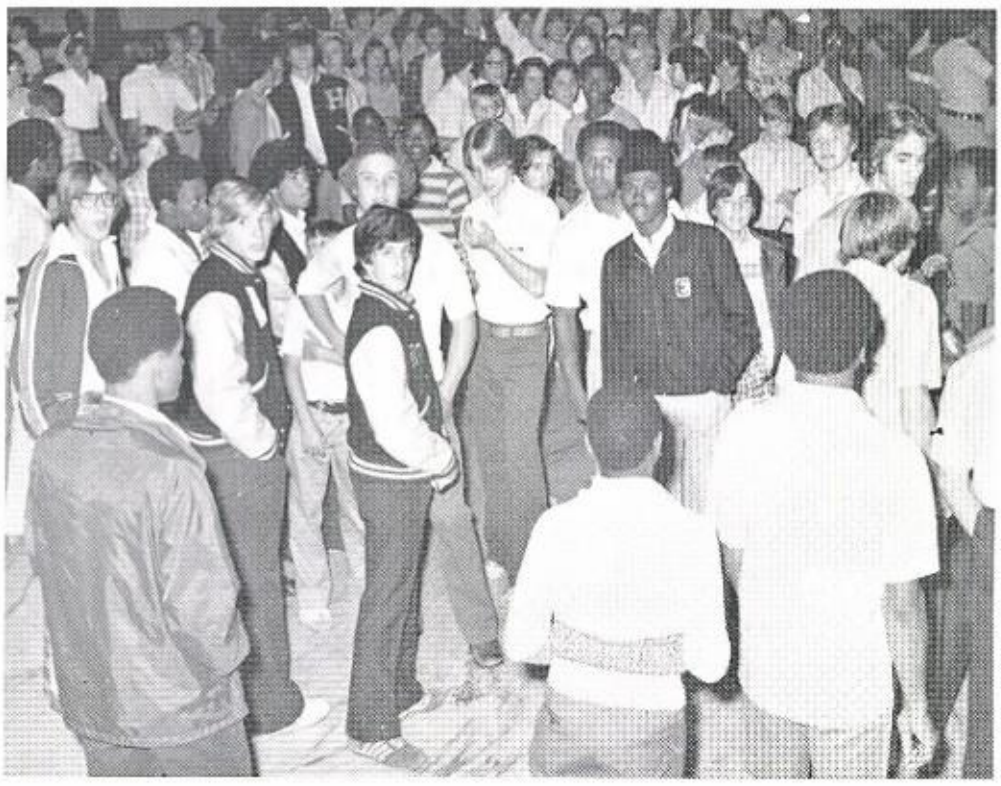


12-1 enjoys another English class.

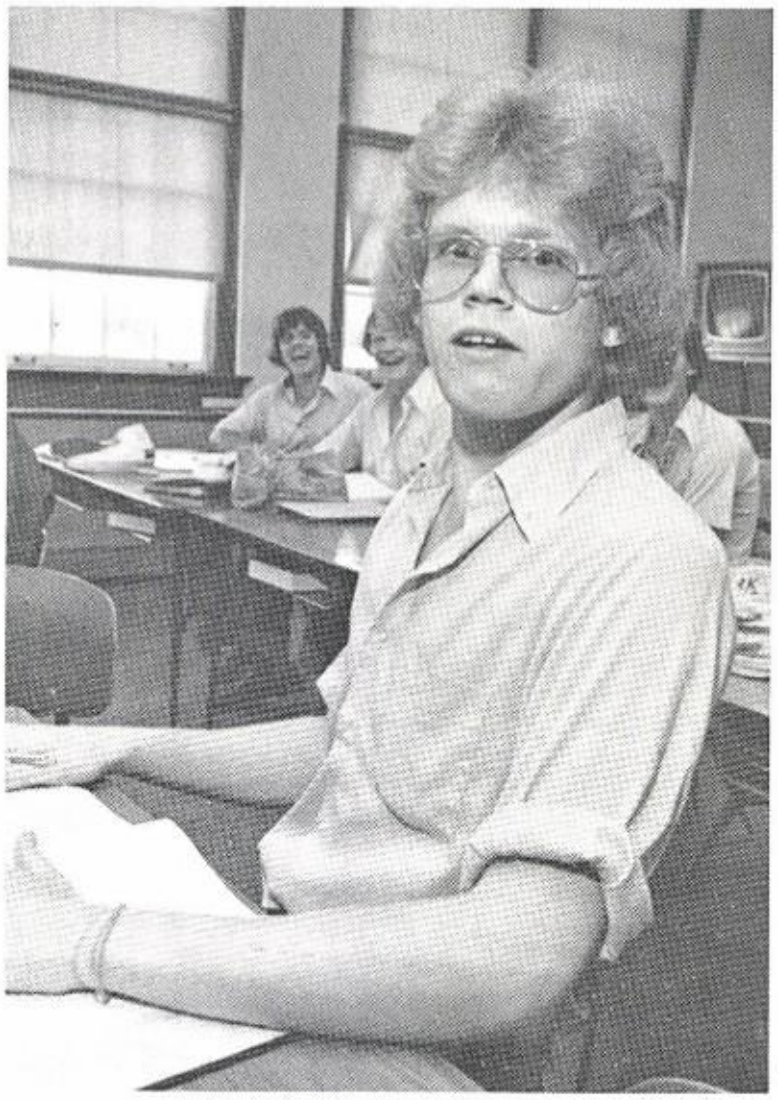


Tony Daggett dreams of a starring role in "Jaws".

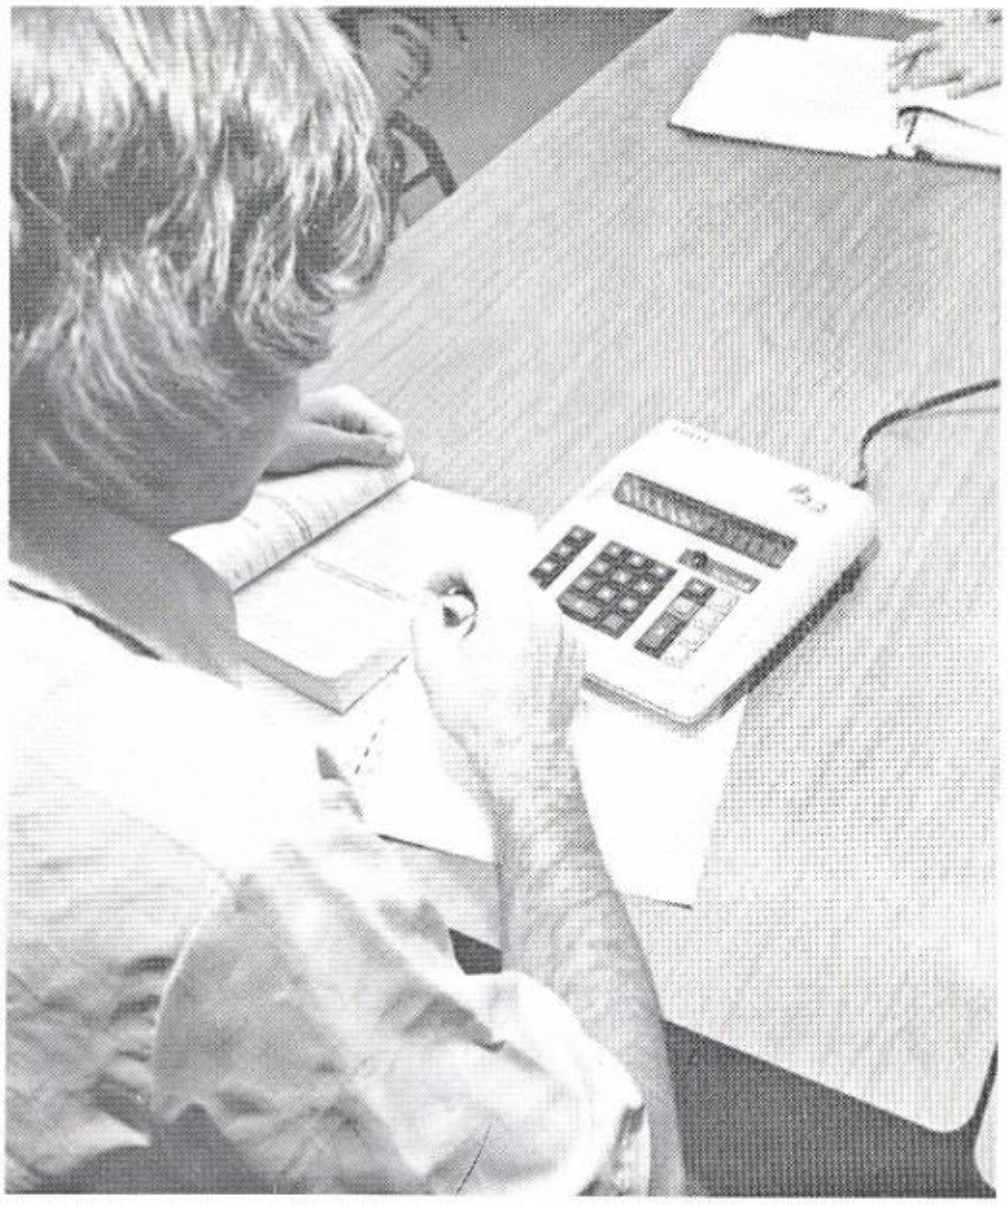
Scott Fasnacht puts in some time in the dark room.



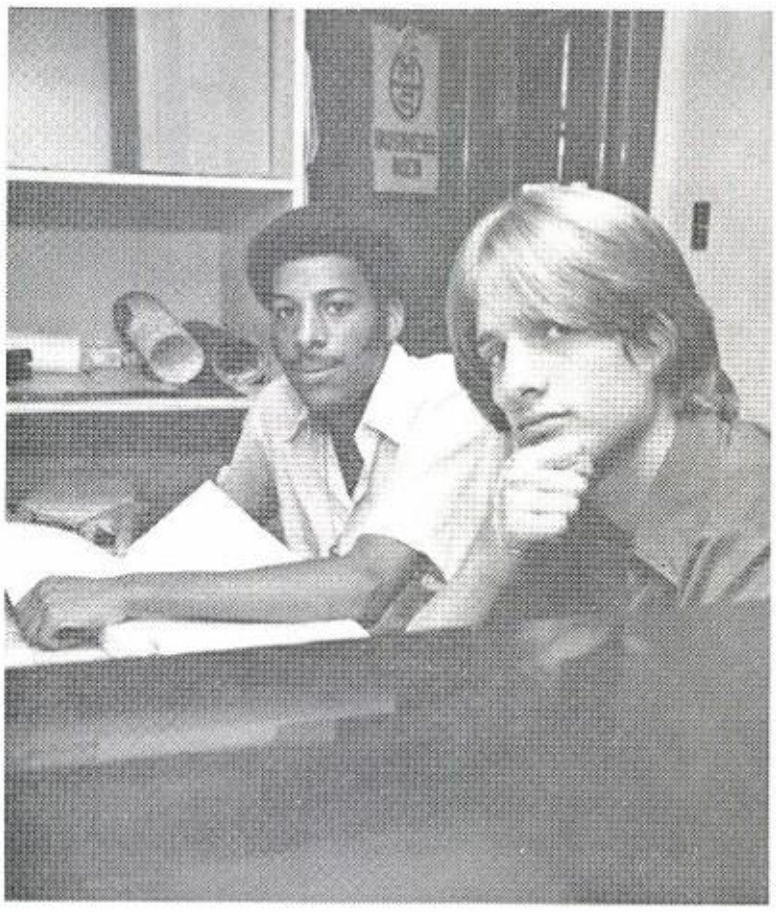
The student body assembles at Founders Hall.



Bill Boykin and his 12-2 cronies enjoy a serious class.



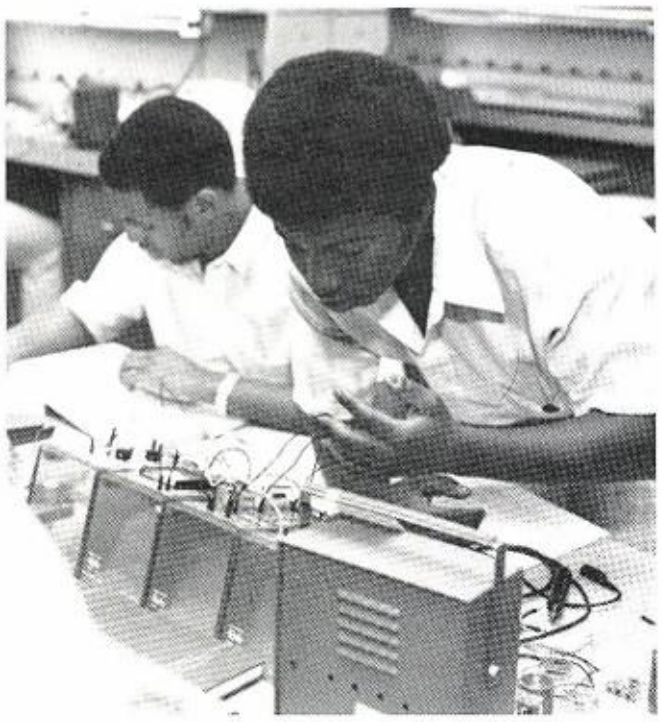
Calculators are put to good use in math.



Dan Durham and Tom Mills are two of 12-5's finest.

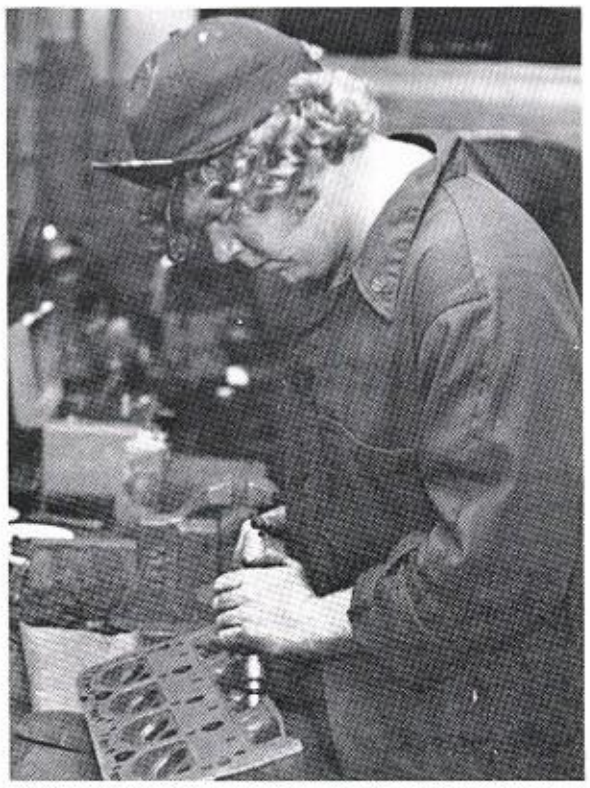
Academically, Milton Hershey School provides for a college preparatory student in either a liberal arts program or a technical program which coincides with his or her shop curriculum. Many students have a choice of a foreign language, French or German. Our Senior Hall programs are mainly coordinated and directed by William R. Fisher '50, Carl E. Stump, and John A. Storm. The services of these men and the cooperation of more than fifty faculty members combine to initiate a positive attitude toward education within the students. Professional guidance is added to help the student decide upon his course of study.

Our Senior Hall Shops



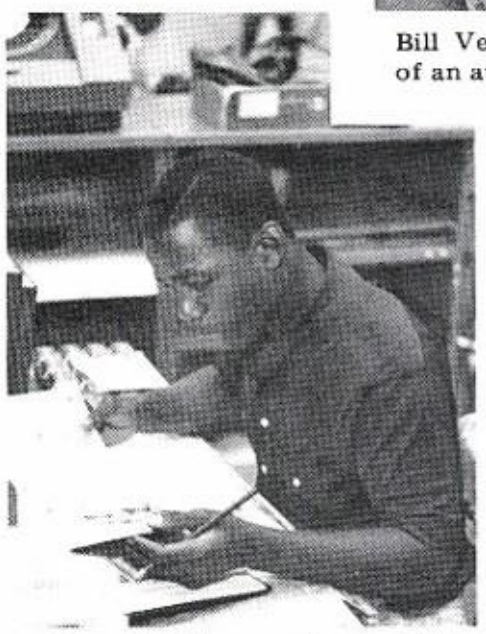
George Parris and Scott Barkley hard at work in the Electronics Shop.

Dan Murphy develops skills in Machine Shop Practice.



Bill Verdon thoroughly learns the parts of an automobile.

Jim Anglin and Randy Dawes developing automotive skills.

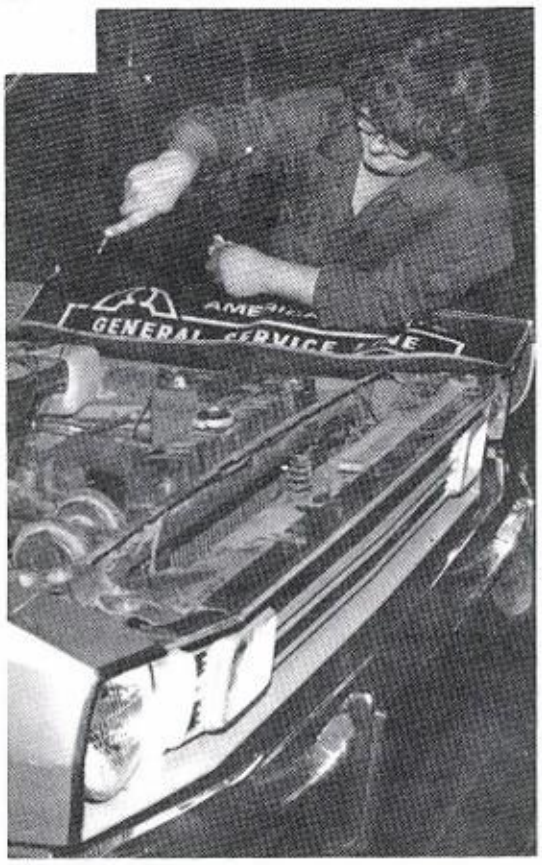


Dayne Malloy works on the yearbook in Print Shop.

John McGaw learns a trade in Machine Shop.

Jim Lowry becomes skillful in welding.

Dave Valkos wraps himself in the world of Electronics.



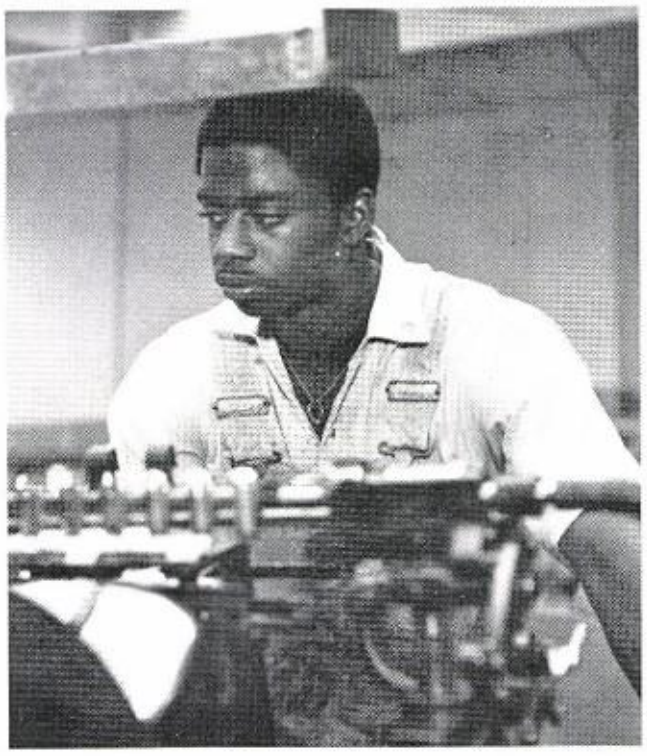
George Segeda tunes another car in to high gear.

Ken Reddick, Milton Hershey's "Mr. Good Wrench."

Randy Snyder develops skills in the Plumbing Shop.

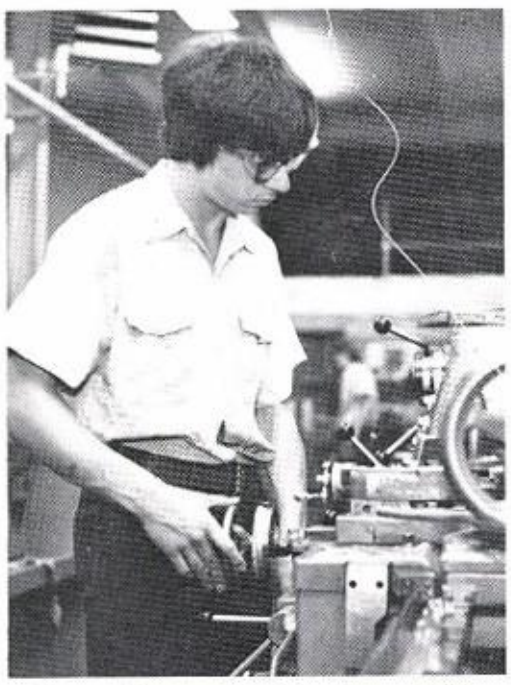
Ray Schraeder and Ron Gilbert hard at work in the Sheet Metal Shop.

Mark Genovese makes a shocking revelation in Electronics Shop.



Stew Savage becomes an expert in Printing Shop.

Dave Mootsey, Milton Hershey's answer to Ben Franklin, who also started in printing.



Dave Sherwood develops skills with machines.

Russ Kerr and Tom Hamilton learn how to drive a nail.

Joe Hughes visits a neighboring shop.

Milton Hershey endowed his students with an excellent shop program in order to fully meet the students' quest for an occupation. Our shops are considered among the finest in the country. The General Building Trades students and the Carpentry students work each year, as part of their training, to construct a house. The Electricity and Plumbing shops then gain their experience by installing the electricity and plumbing works. Our Printing program serves to print all school publications. Electronics shop services electronic devices and works with modern electronic equipment. Other shops serve their purpose in training many students.

Some Changes to Make Our School More Personal

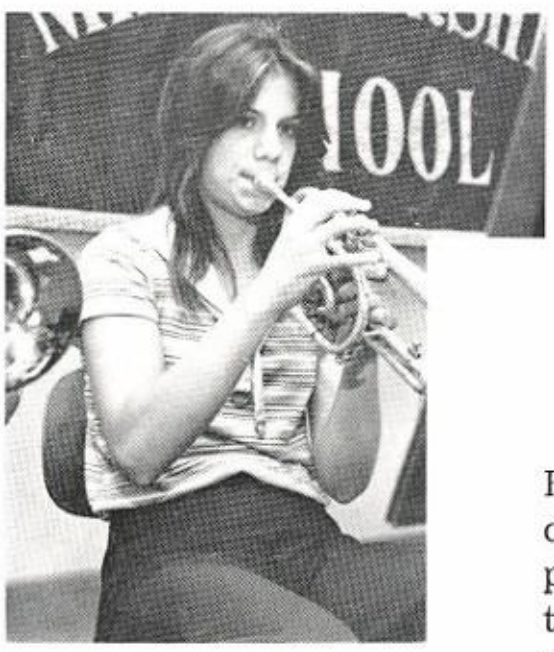
In Intermediate Division girls and boys mix in classes for the first time.

A rose between two thorns.

An attractive Junior Division student.

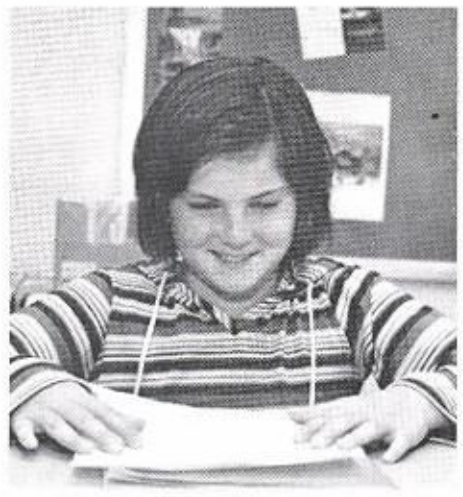
Young ladies take part in a lesson.

"It's about time" we added some sugar to the campus.



The Brown and Gold band gets new and different look.

Senior Division boys look forward to some of same next year.



And so, the ACROPOLIS welcomes young ladies.

With the admittance of young ladies to the student body, Milton Hershey School has taken yet another step to foster Mr. Hershey's dream of a benevolent institution where young people in need are presented the opportunity to receive a quality education. This major transition in policy has taken place with a maximum amount of efficiency allowing girls to enter the student body with a minimum degree of difficulty and few problems.

The Board of Managers Guides from the Top

With the signing of the Deed of Trust on November 15, 1909, Milton and Catherine Hershey entrusted the responsibility of decision making to the Board of Managers. Possessing much of the wisdom and foresight of Mr. Hershey, the Board of Managers, four of whom are M.H.S. graduates, make major decisions pertaining to Milton Hershey School.

This group of men project many ideas that pertain to the future of the School. Concern and dedication are evident in the programs they initiate. These men administer the provisions of the Deed of Trust and set the guideposts for the year-to-year operation of the School. Existing rules are studied and kept up-to-date, and new revisions are offered in order to keep the School running with maximum efficiency. The behind-the-scenes work of the Board of Managers keeps the School in step with a rapidly changing society.

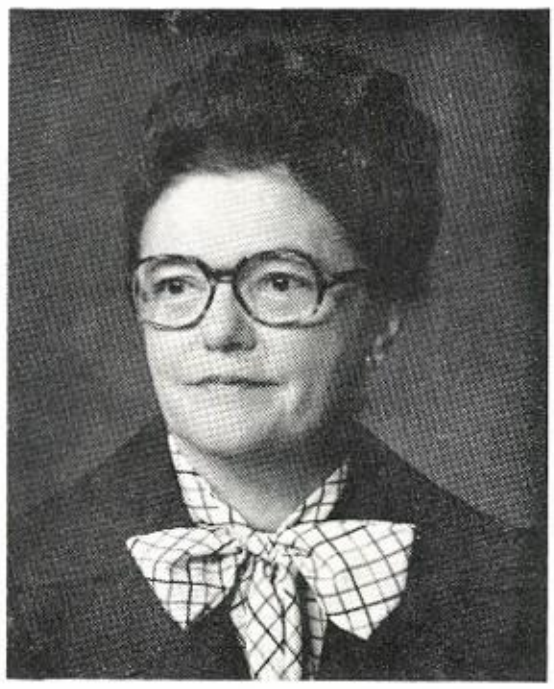
A Look at Those Who Have Served Us Well



Olive M. Kleinfelter

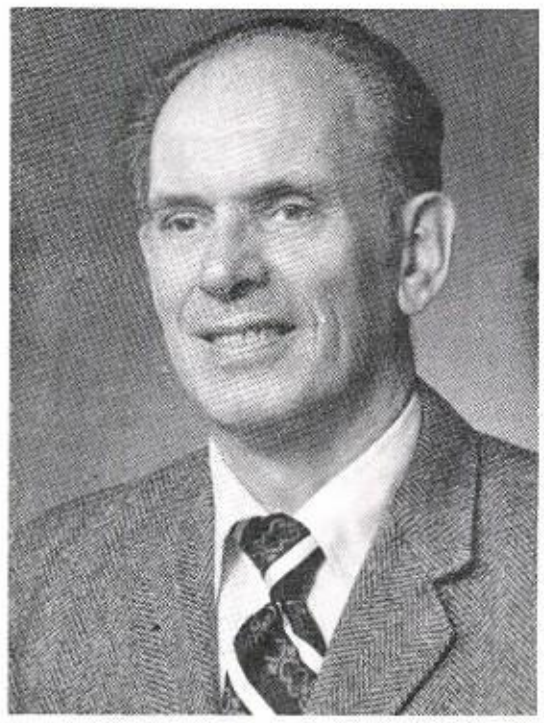
Olive M. Kleinfelter retires after giving twenty-nine years of continuous service to M.H.S. as a teacher of second grade.

Mrs. Kleinfelter was born on July 12, 1913 at Lansdale, Pa. She attended the local schools there and graduated from Lansdale High School. During her high school years she sang in the chorus, played the trumpet for four years, and earned her band letter.

Mrs. Kleinfelter attended Lebanon Valley College where she was a member of the Girl's Chorus, Chemistry Club, and was Secretary of her class for two years. She has also supplemented her education with courses at Millersville and Penn State.

In August of 1949 Mrs. Kleinfelter came to Milton Hershey as a second grade teacher in which position she retired. She fondly remembers such things as Christmas at the "cottages" and many rewarding travel experiences.

We take this opportunity to wish Mrs. Kleinfelter a long and happy retirement.



Thomas O. Pratt

With the retirement of Thomas O. Pratt after thirty-seven years of dedicated service, Milton Hershey School reluctantly loses one of its most vigorous instructors.

Mr. Pratt was born on September 9, 1914, in Wilkinsburg, Pennsylvania. He graduated from Ridley Park High School and later attended Williamson Trade School, Drexel Technical Institute and the Pennsylvania State University. Prior to coming to Milton Hershey, Mr. Pratt was employed as an Electrical Consultant at American Viscose Corporation.

In August of 1940 Mr. Pratt joined the staff of the School as an Electrical Instructor and retired in that position. He helped in the Scouting program from 1941 through 1950. His fond memories include talking to Mr. Hershey on several occasions in the shop.

Thank you, Mr. Pratt, for your years of dedicated service.

William A. Yottey

For forty-three years William A. Yottey has given untiring service in the areas of elementary and secondary education, twenty-three of which have been spent in adding new horizons to the lives of Milton Hershey students.

Mr. Yottey was born on January 20, 1913, at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. He attended Harrisburg Schools from grades 1-12 and graduated from John Harris High School in 1930. From 1930 through 1934 he matriculated at Shippensburg State Teachers College receiving his B.S. in Education. Mr.Yottey then taught in the elementary grades at Lower Paxton Township from 1935 to 1938. From 1938 through 1955 he was Resident Master at Girard College in Philadelphia.

In 1955 Mr. Yottey joined the faculty of M.H.S. as a teacher of seventh grade in the area of Eastern Hemisphere and Ancient History. In 1966 he changed his specialty to teaching tenth and eleventh grade American History and World Cultures in which position he retires. Mr. Yottey also gave ten years at Milton Hershey to the Scouting Program.

We thank Mr. Yottey for his many years of service and wish him a happy retirement.

We'll laugh about the pains we've felt along the way,
Through life we'll set our hopes and dreams, with each and every day;
Maybe we'll reach our dreams, make the best of all we've learned,
And thus leave ourselves to say that we are for what we've yearned.

3

Held in our hearts and minds, for time we can't control
In changing every one of us, still staying as a whole;
The Class of Seventy-Eight thanks those who've helped us through,
We'll remember one in thought for all the love we knew.

ACTIVITIES

The Spartan Players Give Us Quality Entertainment

Mark Genovese, Lee Aitkens, Steve Horowitz, Alan Krashesky, and Tony Schmidt act in "Just a Man."

There is a new name for the playwrights in PHSSL; it is Spartan Players. This fine group of writers, actors, stage managers, and other behind-the-scenes workers have done an admirable job again this year. In December, they performed "Just a Man"; in February, a fine muscial; and in the spring, Children's Theatre.

SPARTAN PLAYERS OFFICERS AND ADVISERS— Kneeling: Tony Clerico, Jim Culhane. Standing: Alan Krashesky, George Hollich (Advisor), Lance Riegler, Tony Schmidt, Russ McDaniels.

Through the Acropolis We Personally View the Year

Planning a year in advance before beginning to actually compose our yearbook, the Acropolis Staff compiles an edition of everlasting memories revolving around the School and its family. Construction during the summer workshop involves scheduling of pictures, writing copy, and multitudes of other responsibilities in order to produce the quality yearbook we take pride in. Unlike many other schools' yearbooks, the Acropolis is planned, printed and bound by the students, giving those involved an extra sense of satisfaction in their work. This Acropolis is the result of this commitment and should project this idea to the reader. Each year, we submit the Acropolis to the Columbia Scholastic Press Association to be rated so that the Acropolis, year by year, will show our continuous improvement.

THE SPARTAN's six annual issues include the following: Fall, Christmas, Literary, Spring, Alumni, and Graduation. A typical issue consists of articles, features, editorials, and sports stories written by and for the students.

Much experience in journalism, layout, and production is gained by THE SPARTAN staff, who put together a very praiseworthy school magazine of which MHS can be proud.

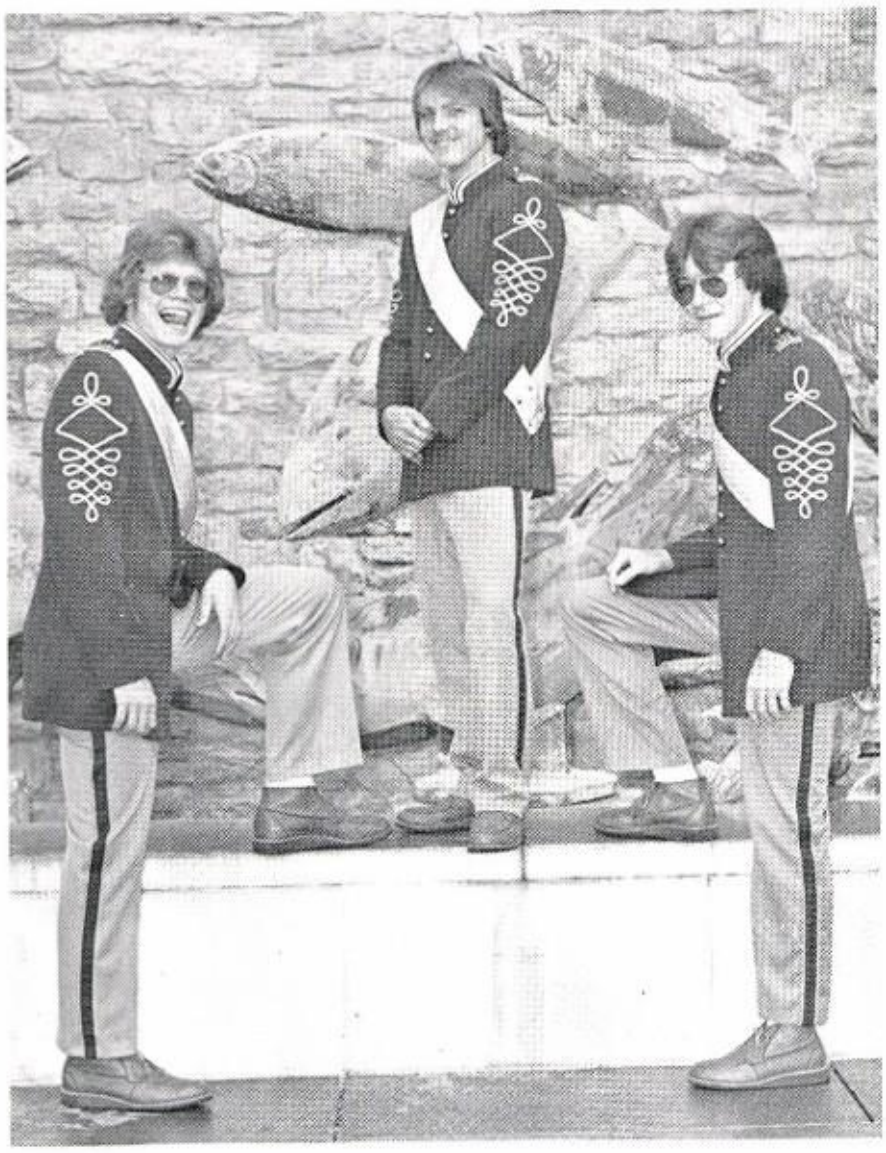
Musical Organizations of High Quality



Band Officers—Bill Boykin, Jeff Arnold, Roger Sell.

DRUM MAJOR—Bert Traub, Ron Andrews (Drum Major), Phil Robinson.

The 1977-78 Varsity Band under the direction of Ray B. Miller, turned out to be a good sounding, hard working, musical organization. In addition to a long schedule of school events throughout the year, the Band participated in the Hershey Halloween and Memorial Day Parades. A highlight of this year's schedule was participation in the 1977 Miss America Pagent at Atlantic City. The nine seniors in this year's Varsity Band were a great help in planning, selecting, writing and orchestrating the musical numbers. As in years before, the Band brought honor to the School as it has maintained its high musical standards throughout the year.

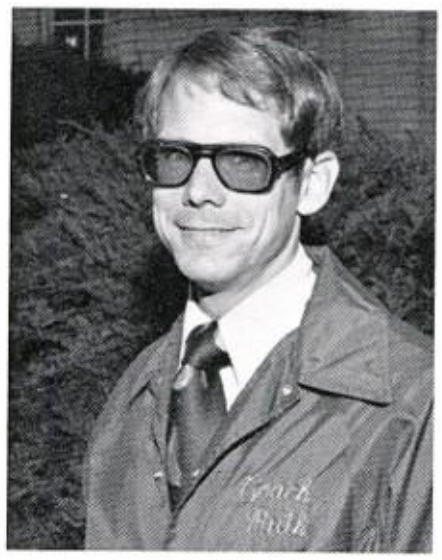
Cross Country Gets Us Off and Running



Edward B. Ruth (Coach)

In another undefeated season, the Spartan Thinclads outran the rest of the C.A.C. for the third consecutive year of gaining the Championship. With a first in the Conference Meet, a first at the Hereford Invitational, and a seventh at the District 3 Meet, Mr. Ruth's coaching once again contributed greatly.

With excellent athletes such as seniors Dan Durham, Ed Wasson, and Mark Strangeway, and junior Phil Quindlen leaving, the dedication of junior Paul Harris, sophomores Brad Woodcraft and Lyle Trumbull, and freshmen Jim Ott and John Gildea shall play a major role in next years season.

No course records were broken by the Spartan Harriers this year, however the nine additional wins now bring the Brown and Gold to a splendid thirty-four consecutive victory string, and also brings Coach Ruth's career record to ninety-three wins, seventeen losses, and three ties.

This year's edition of the Spartan Football Team surged to its seventh straight winning season and a fourth place finish in the C.A.C. Including this year's totals of 7-3-1, the varsity has compiled a cumulative 36-12-2 record in the five years since Ken Snyder took over as head coach.

Balance was the name of the game for the offensive attack. Quarterback Joe Vanderslice completed 58 percent of his passes for a total of 867 yards. On the receiving end, Bob Lynn caught 37 passes for 437 yards and was an All-Conference selection, and, along with Art Rowell, who made 22 receptions for 311 yards and three touchdowns, headed a reliable group. Dan Clark, Al Greene, and Pat Lister usually carried the ball for the potent ground game.

A formidable defense had stand-outs like Scott Barkley, who led the team in tackles and assists, and the team's other All-Conference choice, Al Greene, with 7 interceptions. Other mainstays were Randy Bleiler, Art Rowell, Don Poole and Ron DiBetta.

Senior Al Greene, otherwise known as "Dr. G," managed to top the team in scoring in addition to capturing the school record in assists with a career total of 248. George Parris and Bob Lynn also averaged double figures in scoring while leading the team in rebounding and steals, respectively.

The absence of seniors Cal Little, Jim Staggs, Fred Owens, Abe Hill, and Don Poole will be sorely felt next year. Junior stand-outs Joe Vanderslice and Art Rowell are being counted on to help pick up the slack.
